BRIDGE THE GAP SUMMER VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITY -- VERY HIGH "CUTE FACTOR"

Give time this summer and make a difference for a lifetime

Bridge the Gap College Prep is looking for some volunteers to work with children ages 5 - 9 in their Little Readers and Mathletes programs throughout the summer. Volunteer opportunities run from 9:30 AM to 12:30 PM, beginning June 23 and ending
August 7. You can volunteer for Little Readers (Tuesdays and Thursdays) and/or Mathletes (Wednesdays). Tutor responsibilities include working with a student one-on-one, helping with book selection, reading aloud, keeping reading logs, and escorting trips to the library for the Little Readers program, and playing math games and setting up math activities for the Mathletes program. The Math is fun and easy for volunteers! They are recruiting helpers in one-week blocks. Sign up for as many weeks as you like. (You could volunteer for 3, 6, or 9 hours.) BTGCP’s summer program is located in the Library of the Marin City Bayside/MLK Jr. Academy.

Please contact Hope Feldman at hfeldman@btgcollegeprep.com for more information and to sign up.

Bridge the Gap College Prep (BTGCP) began as an SPC mission project spearheaded by Denni Brusseau and Bob Hunter in 1995. The goal was to provide much needed academic support for vulnerable Marin City students. Today, almost 20 years late, BTGCP is a thriving non-profit that maintains a long-term commitment to Marin City students to provide a pathway for educational opportunity and college success. BTGCP offers culturally competent, accessible, relevant and comprehensive academic and youth development enrichment outside of the school day in a demanding yet nurturing college preparatory environment.

FROM YOUR GREEN TEAM

Put Kitchen Food and Yard Waste in the Green Cart.

Zero Waste Marin and our partners at Bay Cities Refuse want to pass along a few tips to help reduce waste.

- It’s easy to compost food and yard waste! Just throw your leaves, tree trimmings, weeds, eggshells, chicken bones, and all food scraps into your green cart. Food-soiled paper napkins, tea bags and coffee filters, paper cups and other food soiled or wet paper can also be thrown into the green cart. Don’t put these things in landfill.

BACK TO THE GARDEN:

Why, a man of the cloth wonders, do people of faith so readily exalt the symbols of creation over creation itself?

The kingdom of heaven isn't some plane in another dimension, understandable only through symbols and reachable only upon death. The kingdom of heaven is here on earth. The natural paradise that surrounds us is our true home, both physically and spiritually. It's the mysterious marine ecosystem that protected Noah; the mountaintop from which Moses received and dispensed his epochal code; the desert that tested and transformed Jesus. And this heaven-on-earth, is still capable of taking care of us, of sharing its wisdom, of transforming. But if we're to partake in all the glorious gifts it would bestow, we must acknowledge its sacredness.

Every plastic six-pack ring that makes its way to the ocean, every gallon of toxic waste that leaches into an estuary represents another step away from the garden.

JULY ART SHOW

Paper Sculpture and Collage
By Rita Knudsen

This is Rita's second show in Thomson Hall. In her 2005 show, she transformed paper and card into imaginative, magical, and gently colored sculptures that floated in space or emerged from the walls. She is still creating paper sculpture, and several will be in the show, but she's also having fun making framed watercolor collages with a Japonesque feel. Her work mirrors the lyrical aspects of nature, the folds and sweep of the hills, the rebirth and turning over of life.

Says Rita, "When I was maybe two, my mother set me in a corner of our small apartment in Brooklyn with paper and scissors to keep me occupied and, most likely, out of the way. I would cut and rip to my heart's content.

So here I am, years later, in my own little corner, still cutting. Some things never change, although I was possibly more creative at two.

Nevertheless paper, paint, pencils, and scissors are fine companions. We go here and there together and on occasion I do all of them justice."

Rita and her husband Mark were great friends of Carol Cunningham's, and Mark created and printed the stunning sunflower invitation to Carol's memorial service last October. You can meet Rita and Mark on June 15 after church.

GLORY TO GOD
The New Presbyterian Hymnal is HERE!

The purchase of these hymnals was made possible through a generous gift from the late Ardelle Cross. Ardelle was a beloved member of our SPC community and a dedicated chorister for many years.

A wonderful tradition is the dedication of individual books to the memory of, or in honor of, a loved one, a special person, or a group. Purchase bookplates for the inside front cover of one or more hymnals. We are requesting a gift of $20 for each bookplate. Check the website for samples of the bookplates, old and new (search ‘bookplates’ or click here: http://sausalitopres.org/memorial-bookplates/)

Email Robin Sinclair at rsinclai1@sbcglobal.net OR get the form from the SPC website sausalitopres.org/memorial-bookplates/ OR pick up the form on Sunday morning and put it in the collection plate. Note "Memorial Hymnal Bookplate" on your check and deposit it in the offering plate or mail it to the office.
